You can make money without doing evil?

Democracy on the web works?

Focus on people?

Design for the world?

Be worthy of people's trust?

Right! ... more like we will...

and Nationalize the Internet!

We the people have had enough of corporations making social decisions reflecting selfish profit motives devoid of fulfilling public charter obligations to serve the benefit of society. Can't allow a neutral internet? Can't allow an egalitarian democracy where corporate activities are regulated to provide equality and a just society? You've lost your way. The corporate realm has lost their way. The forty year laissez faire experiment to allow the top of the pyramid scheme predators to do as they please, and be subsidized at it as well, is over. The economic collapse occurred because of it (the corporation). You turned our world into your own greedy hell where you sell us a cure to a disease you create. As we say, we've had it. Your time of empire has ended and you need to return the keys to the kingdom voluntarily. If you don't, your greed will drive what's left of our society to complete and irreturnable collapse where there is no kingdom left. No customers. No admirers. Just angry citizens ready take back what was stolen. So, you can...
